

CIRCUS COMING HERE OCTOBER 8

Gawdy Posters Going Up, Giving Anderson Foretaste of Mammoth Show to Be Seen

The circus is coming! That tremendous city which in itself is a delight to man, woman and child, with its elephants that appear as large as houses...

For years the Ringling Brothers' circus has been the delight of American audiences and spectators. It has long been a joy to the hearts of the young folks.

Preceding the circus program proper, a stupendous spectacle, "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba" will be presented. This mammoth production is said to have cost $1,000,000 to build and requires a cast of 1,250 people.

The managerie is made up of denizens of forest, arctic and jungle that fill 108 cages, 41 elephants representing an aggregate weight of 238,000 tons.

The arctic program is made up of startling European and American novelties. The Lloyds, England's greatest riders; the Balkanis, dare-devil horsemen and horsewomen from over the sea; the Borafin, rolling globe artists; the Mirjaris, sensational swinging wire performers; boxing and wrestling kangaroos; three troupes of statue horses and dogs of snowy white; and many other startling features are the inducements of the big show this year.

KITCHENER TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Explains Positions of British Army—Says Troops Are Confident of the Outcome

(By Associated Press.) London, Sept. 17.—Speaking in the House of Lords today Field Marshal Earl Kitchener revealed the strength of the British expeditionary forces in France and described what he believed must be done to assure a successful issue of the conflict.

London, Sept. 17.—Speaking in the House of Lords today Field Marshal Earl Kitchener revealed the strength of the British expeditionary forces in France and described what he believed must be done to assure a successful issue of the conflict.

There were already in France, the secretary of war said, more than six divisions of cavalry which were being maintained at their full strength.

Further regular divisions and additional cavalry were being organized from units drawn from over seas garrisons, which were being occupied by territorials and volunteers.

A division of territorials already have left for Egypt, a brigade had gone to Malta and a garrison force to Gibraltar.

Referring to the two armies, the secretary said that the new division were being collected at the training quarters. The third army was being formed on the new camping ground and the fourth army was being created.

Earl Kitchener also paid a tribute to the other generals and the bravery and endurance of the officers and men of the expeditionary forces.

On the subject of recruiting, Earl Kitchener said: "A country which prides itself on outdoor sport as does England should have no difficulty in finding men capable of making officers. The territorials are making great strides in efficiency and before long will be able to take their part in the campaign.

Meanwhile reserve units are being sent to augment the expeditionary force and their places are being filled by the territorials.

While England has good ground for quiet confidence it should be borne in mind that the struggle is bound to be a long one and it behooves us to maintain army forces to carry on and bring the mighty conflict to a successful conclusion.

FALL OF LEMBERG FULLY DESCRIBED

English Engineer Tells of the Scenes Prior to and After Fall of the City

(By Associated Press.) London, Sept. 17.—An account of the capture of Lemberg, Galicia, as given by an English engineer who has arrived in Petrograd from Lemberg, is contained in a dispatch to the Central News from its Petrograd correspondent.

Panic broke out in the city at the approach of the Russian army, the engineer is quoted as saying. "The entire Austrian administration fled. No defense was attempted. The Feuzians gave the demoralized Austrian military authorities three days to evacuate the city."

On the third day as the appointed time approached, Russian scout aeroplanes appeared over the city, watching for the departure of the Austrians. When the Austrians failed to leave the Russians made a show of opening a bombardment. Although no shells actually fell in Lemberg, the cannonading terrified the citizens, of whom 35,000 bolted into the surrounding country.

The large Jewish community was particularly alarmed, owing to stories in Austrian newspapers. Bankers emptied their vaults and made their escape with the money. Nobody was allowed to leave for Vienna by train unless they deposited 5,000 kronen at the railway station to show their ability to meet the enormously increased expenses of living in the capital.

Among the fatal sights in Lemberg were numerous Austrian soldiers begging in the streets for bread. Many were seriously wounded. Other Austrian soldiers were seen carrying their uniforms under their arms in bundles, which they declared they were about to burn.

The utter disorganization of the Austrian military administration is evident. The army proved itself an unwilling mass of men, of which large numbers were delighted to throw down their arms to the Russians.

Exemplary order was established in Lemberg under Russian control.
